Angleterre : des jihadistes financés par l'argent des prestations sociales

27/11/2014 à 23h10

L'argent des contribuables anglais est perçu frauduleusement et utilisé par des terroristes dans des pays comme l'Irak et la Syrie, d'après Terri Nicholson, membre de l'unité de lutte contre le terrorisme. […]

Thursday, November 27, 2014 ••• Irish Republic €1.50 No 49,612 £1.40

Champions League
Liverpool pay the price for late slip
Sport pages S1-3

Allison Pearson
Why I've had it with education ideologues
Features page 33

Exclusive Book Offer
Wonder by RJ Palacio for just £2.99
(RRP £7.99) Pick up at WHSmith. See page 40

The Daily Telegraph
NATIONAL NEWSPAPER OF THE YEAR
telegraph.co.uk

Jihadists funded by welfare benefits

Met police chief warns of fraud and abuse that sends taxpayers' cash to terrorists

Game and set for a match

NHS to carry on selling patient records to insurers

By Christopher Hope and Laura Donnelly

THE National Health Service will continue to sell medical data to insurers and other third parties despite an investigation that has discovered tens of thousands of patient records were unlawfully sold.

Fears were raised earlier this year that patient records were being misused and sold to insurers, and the Government amended the law to restrict access to data.

The report from an eight-month inquiry, published how their information is being used, that they have a choice in this and that we are honest about the balance of risk. Every single one of us has a part to play in making sure we get this right."

Sir Nick's review looked at how hospitals sell data to insurers. It was ordered after The Daily Telegraph disclosed in February that the medical records of every NHS hospital patient in the country had been sold for insurance purposes.

Actuaries had admitted that they could obtain 13 years of hospital data – covering

Le système de prestations sociales de la Grande-Bretagne est détourné pour financer le terrorisme met en garde un officier supérieur de la police. […]

Elle a déclaré qu'il y eu récemment "un certain nombre de cas" de terroristes faisant de fausses déclarations de prêts aux étudiants pour financer leurs activités. […] «Nous assistons à une fraude qui se diversifie, y compris la fraude en ligne, l’abus du système des prestations sociales, l’abus du système de prêts aux étudiants, afin de financer le terrorisme» […]

Source

*Merci à diradefo