Le Cap (Afrique du Sud) : des étudiants blancs contraints de se barricader pour échapper à des émeutiers noirs

22/10/2015 à 16h35

Le Cap : Terrifiés, des étudiants universitaires blancs se sont réfugiés dans une salle de classe afin d’échapper à quelques centaines d’émeutiers noirs

Les émeutiers en question

Témoignage de l’auteur de la vidéo

Anne Landman a téléchargé une nouvelle vidéo.
20 octobre, 14:56 · Modifié ·

So this happened. I stopped filming before things got out of hand as we were scared they would damage property, which they did. Hundreds of rioters outside those doors. People were cornered and taunted. Some of our students were beaten up for trying to keep the doors closed. The doors are now broken. They stormed in with balaclavas on, shouting horrible things in our direction. Quote of the day "All white people get out or else we will kill you". Sorry for the language in the video but we were all panicking a bit in there. What has this country come to?

*After having this video up for the last few days I have seen it become a massive argument of race on social media. Yes the majority of us in this class are white (but not all of us) and yes horrible racist remarks were thrown our way. That does not mean we don't believe in the reason for the protests. And yes some of us would have joined in on the protests that day if we had been treated as equals and not threatened by those on the other side of the doors. We are fighting for the same goal, let's not turn on each other.

[Source]

Merci à kentinbrooklynny